Bullying: Not in my class!

Creating Safe Learning Environments for Students

starting Monday 25 March 2019

Why a course on bullying?

Bullying in schools remains a persistent phenomenon. It is recognised as a major factor in damaging the overall well-being of students, causing early school leaving. New forms of bullying – enabled by technological advancements and the introduction of social media – are adding to the problem, making imperative the need for teachers to find ways of preventing and combating it at school level.

Key information

- Target audience: Teachers of any subject or level in primary and secondary education
- Duration: 4.5 weeks
- Weekly commitment: 3-4 hr/week
- Language: English
- Start date: 25/03/2019
- End date: 24/04/2019

Course contents

The course provides teachers with a better understanding of different types of bullying and cyberbullying, and empowers them to identify strategies and put actions in place to prevent and tackle bullying in the classroom and at school. To that end, the course discusses the roles of different players in a bullying scenario (bullies, bystanders and victims), explores the most prominent forms of bullying, and covers the key ingredients to creating a safe learning environment.
